MANY THOUSANDS OF MEN
ENGAGED IN STRUGGLE

Kuropatkin is Reported to be Retreating to Mukden.

50,000 KILLED AND WOUNDED

In the Battle of Liao Yang, Says a
Tokio Dispatch—Latest News
From Far East.

Tokio, Sept. 3.—(Bulletin)—The greatest battle of the century is now raging on both sides of the Taitse river, and a decisive victory for one of the contending forces is expected today. The Russian army, divided by a swollen current, is being attacked on both sections. Nearly 100,000 men are on the left bank of the river, just north of Liao Yang. The other half of the army is in a strong position north of the river. Dodzu is engaged in attacking the center near Liao Yang, while Kuroki, who, Friday, captured a strong chain of hills north of the river, continues to hammer at Kuropatkin's main army. At the same time a portion of the force is marching to secure control of the railroad. It is thought that the railway will be captured by the Japanese today. If this happens the entire army of the Mikado will renew the attack on the Russian forces from the south and Kuropatkin will eventually be crushed.

KUROPATKIN RETREATING?

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg states that a report reached there today that Kuropatkin is in retreat toward Mukden. According to the dispatch officials of the war department admit that a report to that effect has reached the Russian capital from the neighborhood of Liao Yang but declare the report is not official. If Kuropatkin is retreating, they say, it is probably due to another effort of the Japanese to flank him from the west.

FIFTY THOUSAND CASUALTIES.

Rome, Sept. 3.—(Bulletin)—A telegram from Tokio received today states that the casualties at Liao Yang have thus far amounted to fifty thousand killed and wounded.

KUROPATKIN'S MESSAGE.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 3.—The following dispatch from General Kuropatkin was received today:

"The Japanese assaulted and captured a position near Sykwantoun during the night. This morning the Russians began preparations to retake the position. An advance against General Kuroki was also begun which was met by strong fire from the Japanese center.

"An attempt by the Japanese to capture Liao Yang railway station was repulsed with great loss.

"The capture of Sykwantoun compelled our retirement on Sakhoumoung. Toward noon today our advancing corps were brought into line and raked the enemy's position. The infantry began its advance last night.

"Japanese shells set the railway station afire, within the inner line of our position. Our casualties were insignificant.

"I have received the following from the commander of the Liao Yang garrison, timed 10:30 a. m. 'The Japanese attacked the fort in the center of our position, but were repulsed with heavy loss. Our losses were six killed.'

CAPTAIN HEISEY AND ASSOCIATES FORM A COMPANY

For Purpose of Drilling for Gas and Oil.

It is Known That Mr. Heisey Has
About Thirty Thousand Acres
Now Under Lease.

Columbus, O., Sept. 3.—The Newark Heat and Light company, capital $1,000, was incorporated here today by Captain Augustus H. Heisey, James R. Fitzgibbon, George D. Heisey, Wilson Heisey and George Graesser. The company will prospect for natural gas and oil.

It is known that Captain Heisey, the East Newark glass manufacturer, has about 30,000 acres of land in Jackson, Knox and Coshocton counties under lease, his holdings being very extensive about Union Station and northeast of Newark. This land is known to be in good gas territory.

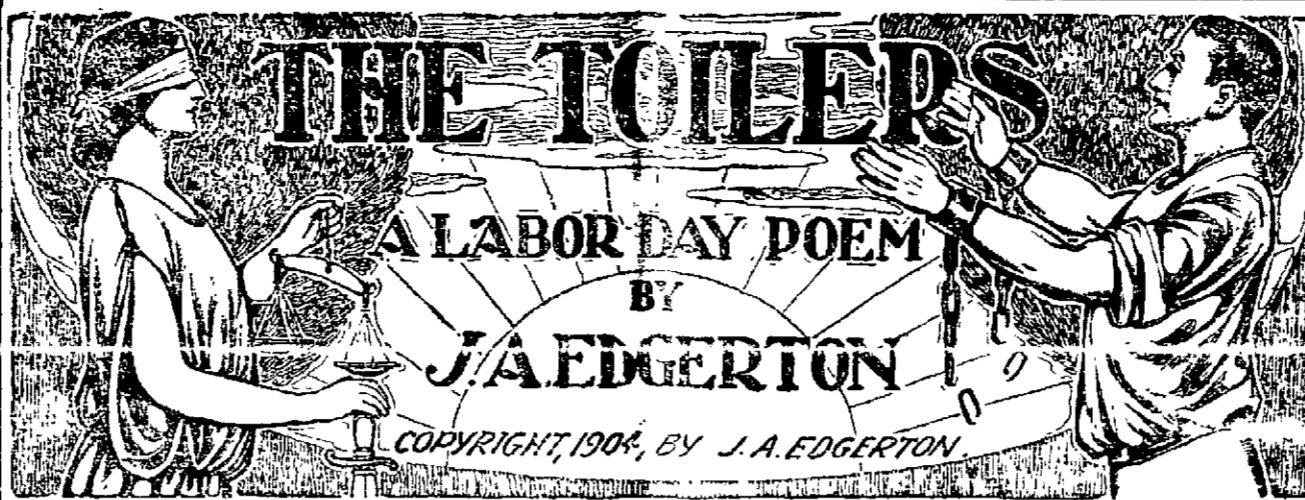

Another big gas well was drilled in Saturday in the new gas field in Union township, west of Newark. The well is located on the Frank Hill-brant farm, near Union Station, and is said to have a capacity of several million feet of gas per day.

THE STRIKE

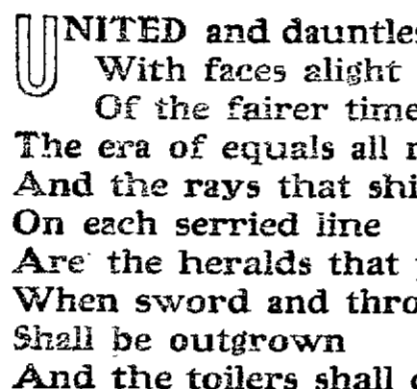

Chicago, Sept. 3.—With the close of business Tuesday every butcher's retail market clerk and meat market delivery wagon in the United States affiliated with the labor organization, is expected to join in the sympathetic strike by refusing to handle meat that had been declared "unfair" and developments of next two days will determine whether or not the ranks of the strikers in Chicago will be swelled by the addition of the freight handlers' union, the switchmen's union and all teamsters in the stock yards trade. The packers say there will be no meat famine and prices will not go up.

The largest organ in the world is at the St. Louis Exposition.

This year's lavender crop in England is one of the most abundant for years.

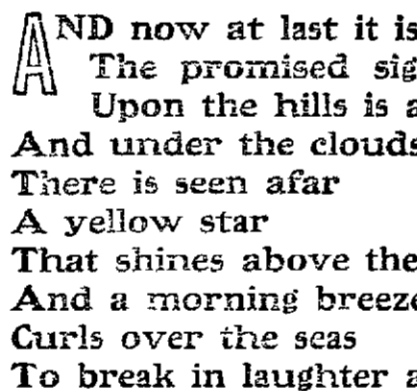

ROM under the shadow of bondage past
The forces of Labor emerge at last—
The armies of peace, with a comrade faith;
The soldiers of life, and not of death—
They take the van
In the service of Man,
Which ever has been since the world began,
And ever will be,
Till the race goes free,
The one true badge of nobility.

UNITED and dauntless, their ranks march on,
With faces alight in the growing dawn
Of the fairer time that has come to birth,
The era of equals all round the earth.
And the rays that shine
On each serried line
Are the heralds that promise a day divine
When sword and throne
Shall be outgrown
And the toilers shall come to claim their own.

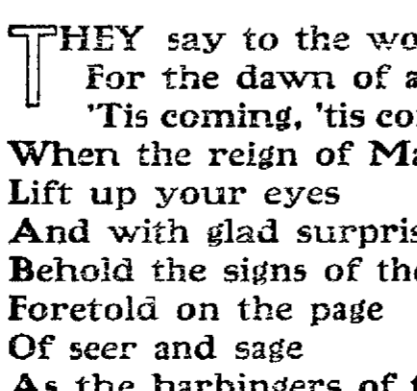

THE world has waited its coming long
Through centuries drear and dark with wrong.
It has been the dream of the cringing slave
When scourged through life to a welcome grave;
It has been foretold
By the seers of old,
To whom, as the scroll of Time unrolled,
Appeared the light
Of the Age of Right
As it broke afar on the Future's height.

AND now at last it is drawing near.
The promised signs in the east appear.
Upon the hills is a graying tinge,
And under the clouds is a golden fringe.
There is seen afar
A yellow star
That shines above the horizon's bar,
And a morning breeze
Curled over the seas
To break in laughter amid the trees.

THERE are tremors that through the valleys run,
Like news of the yet unrisen sun;
There's a radiance seen on the mountain snows,
Like the first faint blush of a blowing rose;
There are signs of hope
Where the dawn-gates ope,
And a dash of light on the grassy slope,
While clear and strong
Comes a burst of song,
For the birds are passing the word along.

THEY say to the world: Awake, awake,
For the dawn of ages is soon to break!
'Tis coming, 'tis coming, the longed-for day
When the reign of Mammon shall pass away.
Lift up your eyes
And with glad surprise
Behold the signs of the new sunrise,
Foretold on the page
Of seer and sage
As the harbingers of the Golden Age.

SEND out the word to the hosts of light.
Let all the children of Truth unite;
Let the trumpets sound and the battle wage
Till the toilers come to their heritage;
Till the world is freed
From the tyrant Greed
And his daughters Ignorance, Crime and Need;
Till each man shall be,
As God meant him, free,
Erect in the sunlight of Liberty.

ENGINEERS ARE READY FOR A BIG STRIKE

Agree to Sustain Their Demands.

Street Railway Men and Engineers
Are Standing Together in the Subway Trouble.

New York, Sept. 3.—President Jencks of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers announces that the Elevated railroad employees of Manhattan and the Bronx, at their all-day meeting voted as a unit to strike if such action is deemed necessary.

In the afternoon, while the men were voting, E. P. Bryan, vice president and general manager of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, which controls the elevated lines and the subway and Frank Penley, superintendent of the same company, held an hour's conference with Police Commissioner McAdoo and discussed the question of police arrangements in the event of a strike being called.

After this conference Mr. Bryan gave out a slight statement in which he reviewed the trouble of the Interborough company with the Elevated road employees, growing out of the company's decision to pay motormen in the subway, when it opens, $3 a day for ten hours' work instead of $2.50 for nine hours, while motormen on the Elevated road receive.

From 10 o'clock a. m. until 10 o'clock last night, the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen voted on the question of a strike on the Elevated with the results announced by President Jencks.

An all-day meeting of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Employees of America was held and the members of that association voted to support the executive committee of the Amalgamated if the committee should decide to stand by their agreement to support the engineers and firemen in the event of a strike.

"The vote was a unit to strike," President Jencks said. "That does not mean a strike, but it means that the men declare for strike if no concessions are forthcoming."

He said that 750 or more members of the Engineers' and Firemen's unions had voted on the strike proposition, either personally or by proxy. The Amalgamated vote was nearly 4,000.

Paris, Sept. 3.—The Paris edition of the New York Herald, prints the following from its Geneva correspondent: "A high official of the Ottoman court has received news of a serious fight between the sultan's Albanian guard and Bosnians, which continued almost to the doors of the harem. Many were killed or wounded.

"It is said that one Albanian shot at the sultan, the bullet glancing off the coat of mail which he always wears.

The sultan has asked the Prince of Montenegro to supply him with a guard.

The affair is certain to be decided but it truth can be affirmed."

WOMAN'S DRESS CAUGHT FIRE

Victim of Awful Accident Is the Mother of Several Little Children—She Cannot Live.

A frightful accident occurred at the home of Mr. David Staugh, at 34 Pataskala street about 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in which his wife, Mrs. Augusta Staugh, received injuries that are necessarily fatal, according to Drs. D. M. Smith and W. B. Tracey.

Mrs. Staugh was sitting close to the cook stove in which a coal fire was burning, cleaning a suit of clothes belonging to her eldest son, Cuffey, who is employed at the Wehrle foundry. She was using gasoline in the cleaning process and in some manner the garment got too close to the fire, and ignited, and in a moment the woman's waist, made of light material, had caught fire. She ran screaming from the house, out a back gate into the alley where she was intercepted by Mrs. John Everts and several other neighbors, who attempted to tear the burning clothing from the unfortunate woman's body. At this juncture Mrs. George Wise of 63 Pataskala street appeared with comforters and blankets, which she had with great presence of mind snatched from a bed, in which she enveloped the blazing woman, and the flames were put out. She was then carried into the home of Mrs. Wise and Dr. Smith was summoned. He drove rapidly to the scene in his automobile, and an examination at once convinced him that Mrs. Staugh's injuries were fatal. Her back, face, breast, and arms were literally cooked, and from the condition of the mouth and throat she must have inhaled a great deal of flame. Her suffering was pitiful to behold, as she was perfectly conscious and rationally answered several of the reporter's questions.

Mrs. Staugh is only 37 years old, yet is the mother of seven children, ranging in age from 20 years to an infant less than a year. Her husband is employed at the Cedar Hill cemetery. She is a woman who is well thought of in the neighborhood as was evidenced by the remarks of kindly sympathy of those ministering to her.

Mrs. Staugh was still living at 3:45 p. m. Saturday.

Second Fire Alarm.

Just as the out-tap was sounded for the Staugh fire, the central department was called to the rear of J. L. Worth's residence, where a pile of paper was burning. No damage.

Newark

It is with pleasure that we take this opportunity to announce to the people of this city and Licking County that we have decided to open a fine business training school in Newark on Monday, September 12, 1904.

The Bliss College of Columbus, Ohio, is too well and favorably known in this vicinity to need any formal introduction, hence all we wish to say in connection with this school is, that the Bliss College of Newark will be modeled upon and conducted in as thorough a manner as the Bliss College of Columbus.

The new Bliss School of Newark, Ohio, will occupy the entire second floor of the building known as Wilson's Hall, on South Fourth street. (See electric sign).

Following is a synopsis of the course of study.

Actual Business From Start to Finish

The "Bliss System of Actual Business From the Start," of which F. H. Bliss is the author, will be used, so that students will truly "learn by doing."

Those who enter the Commercial Department will begin buying and selling and actually performing all kinds of business transactions from the first until the last day of the course. Students in this department will enter into and draw up all kinds of commercial paper used by business men.

Book-Keeping.

As will be seen from the above, students will be taught bookkeeping by "Actual Business from Start to Finish." It has been proven by careful experiment that students learn as much bookkeeping by this system in six months as can be learned by the old theory method in twelve.

Commercial Arithmetic

Sadler's Commercial Arithmetic will be used as a textbook in this department. The instruction will differ widely from that afforded by ordinary schools; both in method of teaching and matter taught. Prominence will be given to those points which are of great interest to business men.

Practical Penmanship

This College will have as its Teacher of Penmanship one of the best penmen to be obtained. Every student will receive a one-hour's daily drill in penmanship under his instruction.

Commercial Law.

This branch will be taught by a lawyer in regular practice, and will include the following subjects: Contracts, Agency, Corporations, Liens, Insurance, Negotiable Paper, Partnership Interest, Usury, Bailment and Real Estate.

Commercial Paper.

Students will actually become party to, and draw up Checks, Promissory Notes, Drafts, Bills of Sale, Deeds, Mortgages and every kind of Commercial Paper used by business men.

Rapid Calculations.

Students will be thoroughly drilled in rapid calculations of all kinds. The knowledge obtained by this drill will save him many hours of laborious figuring in the future.

Spelling.

The text-book used contains 3,000 every day words such as are used in ordinary business correspondence.

Business Letter-Writing.

Great stress will be given to letter writing in this College, as it is well known that as a rule, young people are deficient in this branch.

Shorthand and Type-Writing Department.

This College will use the Dement text-book in teaching shorthand. It is a combination of the Graham and Ben Pitman systems, presented in a strictly modern way. The style it teaches is neither as short as the former, nor as long as the latter; a practical reporting medium, edited by Isaac S. Dement, the finest writer in the world.

This system is easily mastered and gives better results to the reporter than any other system published.

Typewriting.

The Typewriting Department of this institution has a room furnished with the newest and latest models of Remington, Underwood and other standard machines.

Evening Session.

The evening session will be held three nights each week. Those employed during the day can receive the same advantages in this session as in day school.

Discount at Opening.

All who enter the College at the opening, Monday, September 12, will receive a discount of 10 per cent on a one year's scholarship in either department, the combined course, or Night School.

SAMPLES

OF BRICK MADE FROM SAND OF MADISON TOWNSHIP.

Squire D. H. Pigg Sends Sand to Michigan For Test—A Company May Be Formed.

Squire David H. Pigg has received several samples of brick, from a Michigan kiln, which were manufactured there for him out of the white sand, to be found in unlimited quantities on his farm in Madison township. The brick is as hard as the hardest, and is made out of the white sand mixed with lime. It is a light gray in color, and has every qualification of the best brick known and some that none other possess.

Among the latter is that the brick can be made today and put in a wall tomorrow, as it does not have to go through a drying out process, this being done when it is steamed under high pressure in the making.

Squire Pigg is highly elated over the result of his experiment, and will probably take steps at once to manufacture the brick here in Licking county. The details of the development of the vast bed of sand and the installation of a kiln, have not been completed, but a stock company may be formed for this purpose. The sand is to be found in unlimited quantities and the brick could be manufactured at comparatively small cost.

Constipation. Its Cause and Cure.

A person in order to be healthy must get rid of the waste products (or poisons) of the body. Nature has provided four ways to get rid of them: The Bowels, the Kidneys, the Bladder and the pores of the skin.

If the bowels become inactive, that portion of the food which should be thrown off lies in the intestines and decomposes, causing blood, nerve, liver and kidney trouble, and closes the pores of the skin, thus creating disease in the entire system.

You can immediately relieve and permanently cure yourself of stubborn constipation or distressing stomach trouble and perfectly regulate your kidneys and liver by taking one dose a day of DR. KIDNEY'S PALM-BETTER TO WINE. Any reader of this paper can secure absolutely free a bottle by writing to Drake Formula Co., Drake Building, Chicago.

A FREE trial bottle alone has brought health and vigor to many, so you owe it to yourself to prove what it will do in your case. Write the company this very day. Sold at Hall's drugstore, Newark, O.

Very Large Apple.

Squire W. F. Hutton brought to The Advocate office a rare specimen of an apple grown in his orchard, in Mary Ann township. It was the most perfect specimen we have seen this season, being of a very bright red color, without a blemish of any kind, and larger than a full sized tin cup.

Have you seen Tallmadge Place addition? If not, come out tomorrow and see it.

LABOR DAY

A Beautiful and Highly Appropriate Window Display Seen at the Powers-Miller Co. Store.

One of the most attractive and really beautiful window displays ever seen in Newark is the "Labor Window," designed by Mr. Gid Lippincott and which can be seen in the east window at the Powers-Miller store in the Union block.

The window represents a large blacksmith shop, the forge and bellows being made of white muslin. By an ingenious mechanism the bellows is kept moving up and down in very realistic style. At the anvil are three figures, supposed to be forging a chain. The figures represent "Justice" in the center, while "Labor" and "Capital" on either side are holding the two ends of the chain. The idea that is symbolized is well explained in the following: "Let us subject our differences to the fires of charity and brotherly love, so that arbitration may weld more firmly the ties which unite Labor and Capital, the two powers to which our country owes its commercial and industrial supremacy."

At night, by a system of colored lights, the fire in the forge is made to glow, while by the arrangement of the lights and the background of tri-colored burning, a general effect of red, white and blue is obtained which is indeed most beautiful, and artistic.

AMONG THE AMATEURS.

The Silver Grays defeated the Newark Nationals Friday afternoon by a score of 18 to 17. Batteries—Hopkins and W. H. Long; Miller, F. Coffman and E. Brown; Umpire—H. Williams.

The "Alberta," is another fine variety, which is prolific. The peach orchard on the Showman farm contains several thousand trees of different varieties, and Mr. Showman has certainly made a great success in first class fruit culture.

The Government, or rather the administration, can make no statement as to the financial conditions without making further exposure of the extravagance and wastefulness of the party in power. Despite strenuous efforts for a better showing, the two months of the fiscal year closing with August report a treasury deficit of $23,790,886. That for one-sixth of the year ought to satisfy our strenuous-minded President. It stands for a deficiency for the fiscal year, if Rooseveltism goes on, nearing $140,000,000. The treasury receipts for August were $44,903,000, and the expenditures $61,286,000—a deficit of $6,383,000. For the same month last year there was a surplus of $6,907,677.

The Advocate offers $500 in cash and prizes for the best estimates on the total vote in Licking county at the November election. It costs nothing to participate. All who pay their subscription in advance will be entitled to make estimates. There are 136 prizes. Read the full announcement in another column.

QUOTES ROOSEVELT AGAINST HIMSELF

Democratic National Committee to Place President's Writings and Speeches Before All Voters—His Contempt for Law and Evil Opinions of People Better Than Himself.

In great crises it may be necessary to overturn constitutions, to disregard statutes—Roosevelt's "Oliver Cromwell page 52.

The foregoing quotation heads a four-page campaign pamphlet which the Democratic National Committee intends to place in the hands of every voter in the United States.

President Roosevelt has been a prolific writer of histories and biographies, in which his political comments have been candid and emphatic. The remarks about crises and their effect upon constitutions and statutes is pointed out in the little document as the "key-note" of the President's policy.

A page is devoted to the derogatory phrases coined by Author Roosevelt about President Roosevelt's predecessors. Jefferson is called by Theodore Roosevelt a "timid and shifty doctrinaire" in his "Life of Benton" (page 73), and "the most incapable Executive who ever filled the President's chair" in the "Naval War of 1812."

Roosevelt on the Presidents.

Other quotations from Roosevelt follow:

Madison: "Incapable," results of his administration brought "shame and disgrace to America," in the war of 1812.

Monroe: With "no special ability," as Secretary of War under Madison, a "triumph of imbecility to the last."

Jackson: "Ignorant."

Van Buren: "Faithfully served the maunon of righteousness. He succeeded because of, and not in spite of, his moral shortcomings."

Harrison, Taylor, Fillmore: "Small Presidents."

Tyler: "He has been called a mediocre man, but this is unwarranted flattery. He was a politician of monumental littleness. His chief mental and moral attributes were peevishness, fretful obstinacy, inconsistency," &c.

Polk: "Excepting Tyler, the very smallest of the line of small Presidents, who came in between Jackson and Lincoln."

Pierce: "Small politician, of low capacity and mean surroundings."

Buchanan: One of the "Small Presidents."

John Sharp Williams referred, in his speech of notification to Henry G. Davis, to Mr. Roosevelt's applying the word "cattle" to Congress. Here is the paragraph from Governor Roosevelt's speech before the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce in 1899:

Calls Congressmen Cattle.

Just at this moment, Congress, in Washington, seems to have made up its mind that having provided for the fact that we must take care of the Philippines and of Cuba, there is not to be any army with which to take care of it and that the armed resistance is to be made by proclamations. Well, it is a little soul-harrowing to have to deal with CATTLE who take that view of the responsibility of the nation.

Other contemptuous phrases quoted include:

THE QUAKERS—A class of professional non-combatants is as hurtful to the real healthy growth of a nation as is a class of fire-eaters, for a weakness or folly is nationally as bad as a vice or worse, and in the long run A QUAKER MAY BE QUITE AS UNDESIRABLE A CITIZEN AS IS A DUFLIST.

LABORING MEN—They (the cowboys) are much better fellows and pleasanter companions than small farmers or agricultural laborers; nor are the mechanics and workmen of a great city to be mentioned in the same breath.

FARMERS—Mr. Bryan and his adherents have appealed to the BASEST SET IN THE LAND—the farmers—Speech before New York Wool Exchange, Oct. 27, 1896.

He Spares Few.

The "speak-softly-and-carry-a-big-stick" speech and the order to Latin-American republics to pay their obligations are quoted, together with less familiar sayings, such as these:

In many of the cases of lynch law which have come to my knowledge the effect has been healthy for the community.

A merchant or manufacturer works his business, as a rule, purely for his own benefit, without any regard whatever for the community at large.

Political economists have pretty generally agreed that protection is vic-lous in theory and harmful in practice. In old days, when I first came to Little Missouri, there was a motto on the range: "Never draw unless you mean to shoot." That is a pretty sound policy for a nation in foreign affairs.

The peace which breeds timidity and sloth is a curse and not a blessing. A card produced by the literary and publicity bureau is on Republican extravagance. It gives the cost of the Roosevelt administration as contrasted with that of former times, with Secretary Shaw's own estimate of a probable deficit of $43,121,939.

CONN BAKER

HAS BEEN LOOPING-THIE-LOOP OVER THE COUNTRY

Under the Name of J. C. Carter, the Well-Known Rider Has Been Hiding His Identity.

"J. C. Carter," who, as "Diavolo," has been "looping-the-loop" over the country, is none other than Conn Baker, bicyclist and artist, who is well-known in Newark.

Conn Baker, for many years Columbus' representative among the fastest professional bicyclists of the day, is now arranging to enter the Ecole des Beaux Arts, at Paris, France, and there continue his art studies.

This announcement comes with one of a decidedly more romantic nature in which Mr. Baker is pictured as the fearless Diavolo who has been looping-the-loop in the Buffalo Bill show, under the name de guerre of plain J. C. Carter, the daring western cowboy.

Even his relatives are said to have been aware of his dangerous occupation of sailing down an incline into a hoop arrangement and round it like the wind, almost in the twinkling of an eye.

Mr. Baker has been away from Columbus for several years, and at one time it was reported that he had been killed in the Philippines, and this report traveled all over the country, particularly among the cyclists, who were severely shocked at a meet, which they were holding, to suddenly see the former terror of the bicyclists of world-wide reputation live and well.

Under the professional name of J. C. Carter, Mr. Baker has traveled all over the country, performing the dangerous feat of looping-the-loop. The first time he tried it, he was badly hurt, but managed to recover sufficiently to try again in two weeks, and since then he has been riding daily.

Mr. Baker explains the mystery which he threw around his identity by saying that he was anxious to secure enough money to assist him in carrying out the ambition of his life—that of attending the Paris schools—with-out having his occupation known.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung," writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. FOUR HUNDRED BOYS AND GIRLS OF GRANVILLE

Will Visit the County Fair on Children's Day—Other Towns Will Follow.

At the meeting of the Board of Education of Granville held on Friday night the question of adjourning the public schools of Granville on Wednesday of Fall week (Children's Day) was discussed, and it was unanimously resolved to give the children an opportunity to see the big show on that day. It was the general opinion of the members of the Board of Education that the school children would derive great benefit from attending the fair, as it would be a source of education that could not be derived in any other way, and all the public schools of the village will therefore be closed on that day. The secretary of the Board of Agriculture, Mr. J. M. Farmer, has received advice from all over the county that the school youth of the county are coming to the fair, and the indications are that one of the largest crowds of young people ever assembled together, will come to gather on "Children's Day" of the fair. President Kussman and Secretary Farmer are working hard to make this one of the biggest days ever held at the fair.

THE NEWARK BUSINESS COLLEGE

Of Which Prof. S. L. Beeny is Proprietor, Will Enter Its Twentieth Year of Usefulness, Sept. 6.

More than a year ago Prof. Beeny removed his school to the spacious and convenient hall in the Lansing block, it having outgrown its old quarters, where it now occupies one of the finest rooms in the State for a business college. For nineteen years this school has met with the greatest measure of success; its graduates are numerous and they are filling responsible positions of honor and trust at home as well as abroad. Here they are rated as Newark's most solid business men and women, and they occupy the same position everywhere.

The school is equipped with the most modern facilities for the teaching of all commercial branches by the up-to-date actual business from start-to-finish, or "Learn to do by doing" process. Each student is taught individually, and is not held back by the slowness of others. The college affords a training in all commercial and short-hand studies, that is at once broad, thorough and comprehensive, and in full touch with the progressive ideas and methods prevailing in our leading mercantile, manufacturing and banking institutions. It equips for immediate and efficient service, in any sphere of clerical or business activity.

Pro. Beeny is a graduate of the world-famous Duff's College of Pittsburgh, Pa., one of the oldest and most progressive business training colleges from the rock bound coasts of Maine to the golden sands of California, to learn the very best and most modern methods of business training. These experiences, combined with his actual experience in teaching for nearly one-third of a century, over all the varied systems of commercial branches in use for that time, together with his love for his life's chosen profession, in instructing young and middle-aged persons, give a peculiar fitness for the work that can be attained in no other way. Prof. Beeny gives his personal attention, at all times, to every detail of the work, and to the progress of every student, thus making the Newark Business College a leading factor in the advancement of commercial education. This is a home institution. Students may enter at any time, day or night, with equal advantages. His rates are reasonable and within the reach of all.

COL. GEO. CRAWFORD CAPTURES NUMEROUS PREMIUMS.

Finest Sheep Exhibit Was Shown By Blamer & Son, of Johnstown.

Among the successful exhibitors at the State fair, was Col. G. W. Crawford, who has a string of Percherons and Belgian draft horses. In the Percheron exhibition his horse Casino, took first prize in the three-year-old stallion class; Cadie took second prize in the two-year-old class; Crieri, first prize, year-old stallion; champion prize, four stallions, Petaro, Rivoli, Astrakan, and Casino.

In the Belgian class, Corrioton took first; Pesar took third. In three-year-old class, Marvillous took second; in the two-year-old class, Groscair took first. Correal, second. In the year-old class, Dovi took first. In the champion class the winners belonging to Colonel Crawford were Massala, Coynac, Groscair, and Correal.

The Columbus Dispatch says that the finest exhibit of sheep on the fair grounds was shown by Blamer and Son of Johnstown, O., consisting of flocks of Merino and Delaine sheep. These flocks have taken thirteen first premiums and seven second premiums, winning all of the flock shows. This is a record that has never been equalled in the history of the Ohio exposition. These flocks go from Columbus direct to the World's fair at St. Louis.

The two men who deserve the major portion of the credit for the excellent arrangement of exhibits in the farm products building are the active and courteous heads of the department, R. J. Tussing, Canal Winchester, superintendent, and T. E. Adams, Licking county, assistant superintendent. They are experienced exhibitors and well know the needs of their patrons.

Seymour Smith of Pataskala and Charles Fairchild also of Pataskala, were winners of several premiums on fine horses.

Jones' "Gilt Edge" is an ideal flour. A trial will convince you. 2d2t

Save Your Daughter

No. 12 West 88th Street, New York City, N. Y., April 8, 1903.

Wine of Cardui has been a blessing to my home. I have often found that it was a great relief when I was weary or in pain, but I am especially grateful for what it did for our daughter and only child. I noticed that her menses were tardy and she suffered with headaches and giddiness, heaviness in the abdomen and about the joints. This seriously interfered with her studies and she had to discontinue several of them.

A visitor calling on me and discussing the matter suggested that I give her a course of your Wine of Cardui as it had relieved her daughter of a similar trouble. After my daughter had used it for five weeks I found a great improvement in her looks, health and behavior, in fact she was a different girl. The flow became regular and we have not had any difficulty since.

Eugene H. Thompson
TREASURER, RATHBONE MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION.

WINE OF CARDUI

Here the menstrual function had not been properly started and the unnatural condition was making the young girl an invalid. The headaches and giddiness, indicated something more than a mere temporary ailment. They were symptoms of a functional weakness which would become more and more aggravated as years went by. But Mrs. Thompson was ready to take advice for her daughter's welfare and she gave the little sufferer Wine of Cardui and now she is a well young woman.

If your daughter is sickly and frequently ailing the letter of this good mother contains the best advice you can follow.

Wine of Cardui is the menstrual regulator that cures nine cases out of every ten. Young girls, mothers and aged women find this tonic indispensable. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

COMMUNICATION CUT OFF.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 3.—The war department announced today that communication with Liao Yang has been cut off and that nothing has been received regarding the operations around that place since Thursday.

The officials also state that the railway station, which the Japanese report had been set on fire before it was captured by them, is outside the Liao Yang fortifications. Great anxiety prevails in official quarters here, although the general staff express confidence that General Kuropatkin will extricate himself at Liao Yang as he did at Hai Cheng.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 3.—The highest military authorities here admit that it has been decided to abandon Liao Yang unless General Kuropatkin is overwhelmingly successful immediately.

DID OYAMA CROSS RIVER?

Tokio, Sept. 3.—It is believed today that Field Marshal Oyama, who is commanding the Japanese forces around Liao Yang, succeeded in crossing the Taitse river this morning with the body of the Japanese army. The Russians appear to be concentrating in the neighborhood of the Yentai coal mines and it is likely that the main fight will occur there. The vicinity of the collieries is especially well adapted for fighting so far as the matter of defense is concerned. The neighborhood is full of hills and small passes where the Russians might readily take a stand and be in position to repel the Japanese assault.

FIGHTING CONTINUES.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 3.—The tension caused by the belief that General Kuropatkin's line of communication had been cut off by the Japanese, was relieved by the receipt of a dispatch from the general today. His dispatch shows that the fighting continues around Liao Yang, which is still in possession of the Russians and indicates that Kuropatkin, while he has left there and crossed the Taitse river, is striving with might and main to keep his line of retreat open be the result of the battle at Liao Yang what it may.

EDW. A. GILBERT

Well-Known Glassblower, Named For Presidential Elector By the Democratic Committee.

Attorney Charles W. Miller who was nominated for Presidential elector in this, the Seventeenth Ohio Congressional district, at the Democratic congressional convention held at Coshocton last June, has resigned from the ticket owing to the fact that he has been elected clerk of the Board of Elections in Licking county.

The Democratic Congressional committee of the district which was empowered to fill vacancies on the ticket, met at Coshocton Friday afternoon and unanimously selected Mr. Edward A. Gilbert of this city to succeed Mr. Miller as Presidential elector. Mr. Gilbert who lives at No. 407 North Fourth street, is one of the best glassblowers at the Everett factory and is very popular with his fellow workmen. Mr. Gilbert who is a recognized labor leader has for years taken a prominent part in the deliberation of the Newark Trades and Labor council. The committee has made a wise selection in placing Mr. Gilbert's name on the ticket.

SECRECY

SURROUNDS CONTENTS OF MRS. J. H. McVICKER'S WILL.

The Document Will Be Impounded, an Unusual Proceeding—Deceased Had Newark Relatives.

The death of Mrs. J. H. McVicker, which occurred at Pasadena, Calif., last week, has given rise to no end of law suits in Chicago, with a prospect of still more to be filed.

A petition was filed Monday by the public administrator of Chicago asking that he be granted "letters to collect" in the estate of Mrs. McVicker, valued at $250,000. It was looked upon as the first move of Horace McVicker of New York, a stepson of the deceased, Mrs. Sarah B. Game and Miss Jennie Boydston of Sterling, Ill., a niece and cousin, to prevent Dr. L. C. H. E. Zeigler from enforcing a claim of $100,000 against the estate. No will had then been found, and the three persons mentioned were heirs at law.

Dr. Zeigler, who was with Mrs. McVicker when she died in Pasadena, Cal., last week, came to Chicago with the body last Wednesday, the autopsy resulting in a declaration by the physicians that Mrs. McVicker died of fatty degeneration of the heart. Dr. Zeigler claims he has a written contract with Mrs. McVicker in which she agreed to give him $100,000 if he abandoned his practice as an osteopath and devoted all his attention to her.

Mrs. McVicker's will was found, but attorneys for the heirs requested the impounding of the will under seal for 10 or 15 days, so that the names of beneficiaries and amounts of bequests will not become known.

"It is the greatest importance to the heirs that secrecy be maintained as to the terms of the will," said Attorney Condee. "There are developments expected which make it imperative not to tell at this time the disposition of Mrs. McVicker's property."

"Is Dr. Zeigler mentioned as a beneficiary in the will?" was asked.

"I am not telling anything about the contents of the will," was the reply, as Mr. Condee hastened from the courtroom.

The following paragraph appears in a sketch of Zeigler's career, said to have been written by himself:

"At the age of 16 Clarence went to New York City, where he was employed by H. Y. Canfield as a clerk. While in the employ of Mr. Canfield he became converted to religion in the notable Jerry MacAuley's mission. He worked faithfully with the mission and the neighboring churches, and finally concluded that he was called to the work of the ministry. At the age of 19 he started for Bethany College, Bethany, W. Va., and for one year studied special subjects in the ministerial course. The first half of the year he preached his first sermon at Newark, Ohio, to an overflowing house. The papers of that city predicted that he was to be our future Beecher or Spurgeon."

Mrs. McVicker's was a grand daughter of a Rev. Mr. Meyers, a former Newark minister, whose wife was a sister of Mr. Christopher Woodbridge, and an aunt of Mr. H. D. Woodbridge and Mrs. W. L. Prout of this city.

OHIO BIRDS

Dawson's New Book Is a Magnificent Work, Filling a Long Felt Want.

It is certainly a source of great pride and gratification to know that such a magnificent work has been produced as Dawson's new book. It fills a long felt need. From title page to finish, it is both a product of literary skill and typographical beauty. The engravings are first-class and deserve special mention as 216 are from original Ohio pictures taken expressly for this work while 80 colored plates are of the highest orders. And the birds—well, they are all waiting to our Ohio homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bluebird would like to be invited, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Swallow, Mr. and Mrs. Robin and the Robin family, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobolink with their son and daughter. An then there's Master Crow and Sir Hawk, and General and Mrs. Eagle and the little eagles. (They are surely worth your acquaintance though close companionship might not be durable, and the "Sooty coats and speckled teals, ye fisher herons, watching eels, ye Duck and Drake watching wheels," circling the lake, the bittern and all their tribe—oh, there's three hundred and twenty Ohio birds—yes, that's the number—320. Almost one for every day of the year and they're all waiting for an invitation to spend a few days at your home, so that you may become better acquainted with them. Quite likely you'll want them to stay permanently after you see them. Fill out the Birds Invitation, anyway, and send it on to the Birds. They'll do the rest.

The Birds of Ohio, are hereby invited to spend a few days at our home at their own expense, and agree to return to their Ohio home, unless the weather bureau in Columbus, if not wanted after all are seen.

FOUR GAMES

SUNDAY AND LABOR DAY—NEWARK AND ZANESVILLE.

Morning Game Tomorrow at Clay City and the Three Others at Idlewild Park.

The Idlewild team is playing the B. & O. team at Idlewild Park this afternoon, and then follows a four game series with Zanesville to be played in two days, a double header being played on Sunday and another on Monday, Labor Day. The Sunday morning game will be played at Zanesville, and the afternoon game at Newark, Ohio, while Monday both morning and afternoon games will be played at Idlewild Park.

Beckel, the ex-Urbana pitcher, recently signed, will probably pitch the Sunday afternoon game, and is confident that he can beat the Moguls. Stone will probably pitch the morning game at Zanesville, but this arrangement may be reversed or changed.

Pfeifer, the Coshocton player, will be on hand as well as Jimmy Connors, the sensational holding first baseman with Urbana and Coshocton this season. As the season draws to a close the intense rivalry between the Idlewild and Zanesville teams does not abate, and the four games will undoubtedly draw tremendous crowds.

Mr. George Tabler has resigned his position with Roe Emerson, where he has been for the past ten years, and has accepted a similar position with Rutledge Bros., where he will be pleased to meet his many friends and customers. T&F

A YANKEE TRICK

(Original.)

In high life there are cases where a person is admitted to the "swim" while his or her family are unrecognized. Miss Bevan was such a person. Why she was admitted was plain enough. She possessed the component parts of a belle—viz, a high bred appearance, a courtly manner, the faculty of ignoring people out of the set without appearing to do so and a talent for using people. Having these, it was possible for her to get along without wealth.

Miss Bevan was one of the guests at Mrs. Langworthy's "cottage." An old English duke, accompanied by his son—the son a man of thirty—had come over to visit America, and the two had been secured by Mrs. Langworthy for a visit during the season. The Duke of Peppercorn, the father, possessed immense estates in England, and at his death the title and the estates. Miss Bevan determined to concentrate all her belongings in one supreme effort to secure the son.

"I wish," said Mrs. Langworthy to Miss Bevan, "to post you with regard to the duke. He suffers under a form of mania. He is a kleptomaniac. His son is very sensitive about his father's defect and, though he takes the greatest pains to return everything his father steals, will not listen to any ordinary discussion of constitutional blight. They say it runs in the family, only cropping out with age."

Miss Bevan, being of an ingenious mind, set herself to turn this knowledge to account. It was not long before she had formed a plan. One morning when a yachting party was proposed Miss Bevan at the last moment was attacked by an indisposition and remained behind. She kept her room till she saw through her window the yacht standing out at sea, then opened her door and looked into the hall. The doors and windows of the bedrooms were all open for airing, but there were no servants about. Stepping back into her room, she took from a bureau drawer a brooch, a necklace and a bracelet, besides other smaller articles of jewelry, then, going again into the hall, she ran to the duke's bedroom, the location of which she had noted. An ocean breeze blew in at the window, airing the bedclothes, which were thrown over the footboard, and his grace's evening dress suit, which was hanging on the back of a chair. Miss Bevan slipped her jewels into a pocket of the trousers and went back to her room.

The party returned in time for dinner, and Miss Bevan, having recovered, was at the table. She sat next to Lord Lightly and, with consummate tact, having learned the subject his lordship most liked to talk about, drew him out on it, listening to every word he said without the slightest disposition to talk.

For the next few days, or, rather, evenings, it was noticed that Miss Bevan appeared without her customary adornment of jewelry. Lord Lightly was devoted to her and took occasion to compliment her on not needing gems to enhance her beauty, declaring that she looked more attractive in the simple costumes she wore when she left off the jewels. But one morning his lordship appeared very grave. He was reticent as to the cause, and no one understood it except Miss Bevan. She remarked it and was secretly pleased. That evening after dinner he invited her for a walk on the piazza and when there proposed a stroll through the grounds. Once out of hearing from those in the house he said:

"Miss Bevan, I have something of importance to ask you and to tell you. First, will you kindly inform me why for several days you have worn no jewels?"

"Must I?" she said, with a sympathetic note in her melodious voice.

"I would esteem it a great favor."

"My jewels are missing."

"Let me ask you further whether you are aware that my father is afflicted in his old age with a peculiar evidence of senility—that he is a kleptomaniac?"

"My dear Lord Lightly, I have been so informed by our hostess. You have my heartfelt sympathy."

"Then you have suspected my father of having taken your jewels and have said nothing to me about the matter?"

"Nor to any one else. My jewels are not worth the wound I would have inflicted."

There was a long pause, after which Lord Lightly took from his pocket the missing articles and handed them to her.

"Miss Bevan," he said, with a voice full of repressed feeling, "I do not know of your ancestry, but you must be a born lady. You certainly belong to nature's nobility. Not one woman in ten thousand, picked from the world's best people, would have had the delicacy, the kindness, the unselfishness, to permit herself to be robbed of what women so dearly prize without a word."

Miss Bevan hung her head.

"Tell me," he went on, "how you brought yourself to keep silence. You certainly did not know that my father had taken them every moment lost in following up the thief would have lessened your chance of repossessing them."

"I admit," she said under her breath, "that I would not have been so forbearing if the risk had been of wounding another man."

When a year later Lord Lightly, then the Duke of Peppercorn, returned to America to marry Miss Bevan, the world said, "Behold a case where a rich English duke marries a poor American girl." If the world had known the truth it would have added, "Yes, but won by a Yankee trick."

THE RAILWAYS

B. & O. IS GETTING READY TO SPEND MILLIONS

On a Construction of a Short Line
Between Pittsburg and Philadelphia—Local News.

A Cleveland exchange says that the Baltimore and Ohio is getting ready to spend $30,000,000 on the construction of a short line which will revolutionize transportation conditions between Pittsburg and Philadelphia.

The new improvement will be a short line, with few curves and a comparatively low grade from Hancock to Fort Perry. Hancock is about 127 miles from Baltimore and the distance between that place and Fort Perry is between 170 and 200 miles.

The surveys have been preliminaries as yet, but the ultimate length of the line is expected to be about 180 miles. That will be a saving to the Baltimore and Ohio of over 60 miles between the two points, and it is intended to make this a link one of the principal parts of the line.
